After a long sleep, Vesuvius woke up on October 24, 79 AD. This eruption was apocalyptic, since it destroyed the ancient Roman cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum. Herculaneum was discovered in the 18th century and became one of the most famous archaeological sites in the world. Nowadays, Herculaneum boasts several landmarks such as the house with the mosaic Atrium, the house of the Deer, the Thermal spas of the Forum, the house of the mosaic of Neptune and Amphitrite, which definitely deserve to be visited. Herculaneum is smaller than Pompeii and can visited in a hour and half. This tour includes transfer from Naples and English commentary. As you wander through the streets of Herculaneum, you are not only offered a unique glimpse into the private lives of the Romans, but you can also sense the panic that must have surprised its inhabitants when the volcano erupted.

Paestum is one of the most significant and valuable archaeological sites of Italy. Gem of our cultural heritage and known for its spectacular Doric temples, the legend attributes its construction to the "Argonauts" of the Greek mythology. The town, at first called Poseidonia in honor of Poseidon, God of the Sea, became very soon one of the most prosperous cities in the Mediterranean area. Its decline coincides with the fall of the Roman Empire. The journey from Naples lasts 1 hour and 45 minutes. Once there, our driver will assist you with the purchase of the entrance tickets. Not far from the temples there is the Archaeological Museum of Paestum, which contains some of the most important artifacts in southern Italy.
